

"As I See It"

By LANGLOIS

Got an unsigned letter this week from some party, accusing me of being an isolationist and asking me if I have no faith in our Government. He adds, just what sort of a Government would I suggest. As a rule, I pay no attention to unsigned missives, but in this case, I must make an exception, because there may be others laboring under the same impression.

In World War I we took a hand and made the world safe (?) for democracy. We also paid the bill. The money owed us by our Allies was to be paid to us as Germany paid them. It is a sad story, familiar to most, how about 5% was paid back; then Germany put up a wall and the Dawes Commission went over to see what could be done. Result was that Germany not only quit paying, but got enough money to start getting ready to give us another show.

The rest of our noble Allies, with the exception of Finland, quit paying also. But we never quit dishing out the jack collected in taxes from American labor and industry, to those who wailed the loudest.

Then came the second war, which we got into in time to finish up about everything.

Now, my friend, I'm going to ask you a question. If you came upon a pair of fellows fighting in the street, and the guy who you thought was in the right was getting his head punched off, you would take a hand and help him trim a bully. But does that mean that for the rest of your natural life this guy you saved is your special charge? That you must feed him, clothe him, pay for his entertainment, until you are flat yourself? (As we are now.) I don't see it that way.

I don't mind helping a guy in a scrap, if I think he's right, but after that I expect him to make some effort to stand on his own feet, because I and my dependents also must eat.

In the year beginning July 1st we shall spend on American land and sea forces some 15 billion dollars. We shall further spend 5 billion on European economic aid and 1 1/2 billions on European military aid, including Greece and Turkey. That is a total of more than 21 billion—approximately half our national budget. Seems to me, we are doing our part, and then some, which should give us the right to ask these receivers of our aid to make some effort to stand on their own feet.

Now, we have Veterans here who have made it possible for us to live in an uncertain peace who are living in conditions that are a disgrace to any civilized nation. They have children who will need schooling. We are so short of school room now that Federal aid has been asked. Are not these Veterans and their children as much entitled to help as Europeans?

Meanwhile, we need water down here. The population is increasing at the rate of almost two million a year. Where is the money for more water coming from? As the back country builds up, we need roads. Who pays for them?

Added to this, we have in every American city of over a hundred thousand, slum conditions that breed juvenile delinquency and criminals, to the point where we have only 50% enough jail space.

Then, again, let me suggest that you take a trip through our mental institutions to get firsthand information on how some Americans are treated.

Everyone of the subjects I mentioned needs money and should be taken care of before we play big hearted Sam to a gang that is milking us dry.

When the European nations that are now so used to being bottled by us find out that the cow has dried up, they'll soon find one of their own.

As for the fear of their going Communist, suppose they learn the hard way. Tell a kid not to eat green apples, he'll pay you no mind. After a good belly-ache, he knows.

CRITIC PRAISES

"THE DRUNKARD"

By The FIRST-NIGHTER

Tuesday night's dress rehearsal of "The Drunkard" in Lakeside, was proof that the production is well cast and will be playing to capacity attended audiences before its close. The play is now being produced at an outdoor theatre adjacent to Lindo Park.

The lead, David Ford, was very handsome and tied the audience to himself from the very first when he introduced the members of his family and the villain, on the apron of the stage.

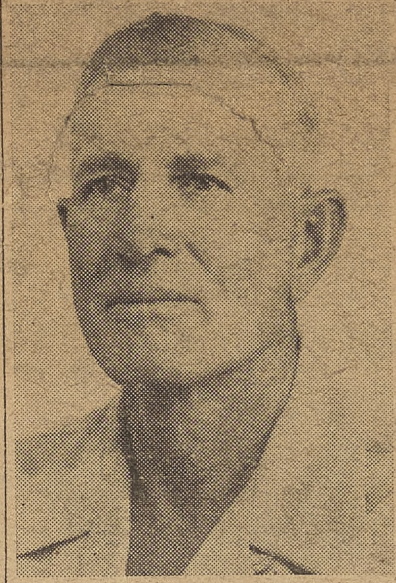

The leading lady was very clever in make-up and gestures and her clear, strong voice carried every word to the back of the outdoor theater. She also doubled as "Mad Agnes," and her mad scene sent chills over the audience.

The melodrama actors have to work without the aid of mikes and colored lights, as everything has to remain cold and hard. That is one reason that it is given in a small, chummy atmosphere. It also brings the audience near the actors, and gives them a better chance to hiss the villain and help the drunkard decide to go with the reformer to be remade.

Men Worth Knowing

We present this week a man who has given all his spare time to anything that would promote community progress. The Star feels he should know that Lakeside is grateful for his efforts. We present this week a

COMMUNITY UPBUILDER

JIM HAPTONSTALL

Born in Colorado in 1891, Jim Haptonstall came to the Golden State in 1909. He continued in school and was graduated from Huntington Beach High School. In the year 1912 he persuaded Miss Mabel Schaffer to become a partner for life—a move that Jim has never had cause to regret.

Tiring of farming, the subject of this sketch, went to work for the County Road Department, working up to become superintendent of roads, a position he has held for a number of years. He still has a few years to go before retiring, and when that day comes, it will be cause for regret for everyone concerned with roads.

Even more outstanding have been his civic efforts. As a member of the Farm Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce, his advice and help could always be counted on. When he was given a job, it was as good as done.

How many booths he has built for various civic concessions; how much terra firma Jim has shoveled to make barbecue pits, no one has ever figured; nor the hours he spent afterwards, cleaning up the debris after the celebrations.

As chairman of the War Memorial Building Committee, since 1944, he has spent every spare minute of his time on this project. In the face of many discouragements, he has never quit, and we firmly believe that the Memorial Building in his hands, and the other able members of the committee, will be completed as planned.

May all who love this community, join the Star in a tribute to a man who has helped make it what it is today.

Shannon Foundation To Assist All Youth

By ARLISS BRAY

The Shannon Foundation has chosen Lakeside as a desirable location to establish a vocational training school for boys and girls.

Lakeside may be known far and wide as a veritable 'Boy's and Girl's Town. We hope to soon publish our own boys and Girl's newspaper and to have radio program.

Lakeside was chosen because of its climate, its many playgrounds and parks and within a few minutes driving distance to the mountains, beaches and thriving cities.

Lakeside was also chosen because of its friendly, wholesome atmosphere. The boys and girls of this community are among the very best, they seem to have all the advantages of modern youth but to have missed the bad influences to be found in the more congested areas.

As newcomers to this community, we take our hats off to the young people and especially to YOU Mothers and Dads.

The Y. S. A. will soon organize in your community. Everyone is urged to take part. If you want to become a member we will find a place for you. Our first, last and only aim is to help boys and girls and all young people regardless of race, color or creed.

We believe a busy person is a happy person and a happy person is a pretty good citizen to have around. After all, we do have to live with one another, and a lot of the troubles in this old world would never have started if we had all learned to work, study and play together.

The Y. S. A. is putting on a program designed to help talented young people in the furtherance of a career in their chosen field, to encourage the young people of America to become interested in worthy ideals and to engage in various activities along social and cultural lines.

It is unfortunate, but true, that many talented boys and girls are denied the chance to develop their talents and talent abilities thru lack of opportunities to appear in public.

The Y. S. A. will give free auditions in order to select young people to appear on amateur programs. Attention young people — can you sing, dance, (Continued on Supplement)

Carter Smith Post and Auxiliary 5867 wish to thank all those who helped make the Barbecue a success, "especially those who gave a helping hand."

The War Memorial Building Committee thanks all the men and women who have aided in the building of the Memorial Building, especially during the last three weeks.

Those deserving special mention are members of both the Optimist and Kiwanis clubs and their auxiliaries.

AUCTION ARTICLES NEEDED

Many useful articles will go on the auction block at this week-end's "Days of '49" celebration in Lakeside.

Carroll Ray, auctioneer, asks that anyone who has something of value to donate for the auction, to bring it in to the celebration. All proceeds go into the War Memorial Building fund.

REST FOR WEARY CHILDREN

AT SCOUT HUT DURING '49er

The Scout Hut will be a haven for weary children during the festive "Days of '49" at the War Memorial Building in Lakeside.

The Hut will be equipped with toys and cots so the children can play quietly or rest while mother sits down for a breather and a cup of coffee.

Special entertainment has been planned for the tots.

FREE RIDE IN PARADE FOR OLD TIMERS

Old-time residents of Lakeside are wanted to fill the 49er Covered Wagon that will be in the parade on Saturday. Gene Ames will drive the four horses.

Lakeside Schools Face Retrenchment

When, in the closing days of the Legislative session just completed, the estimated State School apportionment was reduced by thirty-six million dollars, the Lakeside School District was confronted by a serious problem. The cut in the State apportionment resulted in a reduction of more than $21,000 in the estimated income for the Lakeside Union School District for the school year 1949-50. This reduction means a drastically curtailed program for the coming year. It means, for example, states Superintendent of Schools, Elmer Walker, that instead of the $150 for each child in average daily attendance last year, there will be but about $132 per student in average daily attendance this year. It means, also, that there will be far less available for teachers' salaries, school supplies, etc. When it is realized that the average expenditure per child in average daily attendance, throughout the State during the past year, was in excess of $180, the effect on the Lakeside school program becomes evident.

The above changes made it necessary for the Board of Trustees of Lakeside Union School District, at its last meeting, to re-submit the school budget to the County Superintendent of Schools for review. As it stands now, the proposed budget for the school year 1949-50 will be $117,469, Mr. Walker states.

The date for opening of school has tentatively been set for September 12.

Teenage Dance III

By Opti-Mrs. Club

Western will be the style on Friday night, July 29, when teenagers again dance at the Recreation Hall. Cotton prints for girls and jeans for the fellows will be appropriate and that goes also for the chaperones—the Opti-Mrs. and their husbands.

Thirty-five attended the last dance, twice the number at the first dance. Can it be doubled again? The Opti-Mrs. hope so.

The dance is open to teenagers of high school age or over. Price is 50c per couple, or 30c each person. Dancing from 8 to 11:30; refreshments available.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kushera will be the new members on the dance committee, assisting Messrs. and Mmes. Wilson White and George Baird.

Pioneer Resident

Passes at Age 89

James F. Lamond, 89, Lakeside pioneer, died early Wednesday at the Paradise Sanitarium. He is survived by his widow, Adele M. Lamond; a sister, Mrs. Isabella Gregory of Michigan, and a brother, Andrew S. Lamond, of Napa, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamond lived in Lakeside for over 25 years before moving to San Diego. They still own property in Wildcat Canyon and lived in Lakeside Farms until 1916, when much of their property was lost in the flood of that year.

State Official Suggests Resurvey Possibility

An investigation of the surveying mixup in T. 15 S., R. 1E., "will probably be made eventually" in the opinion of A. P. Ireland, of the State Lands Commission of California. Mr. Ireland did not say why he believed the Federal Government would take action to straighten out overlapping property lines.

In a letter to W. I. Hoover of Lakeside, Mr. Ireland returned all photostatic material which Mr. Hoover had forwarded to Governor Warren.

"This is not a matter which comes under the jurisdiction of the State Lands Commission, but it is undoubtedly a matter for the consideration of the Federal Government."

Wally Cate, clerk at the Lakeside postoffice, has been ill at his home the past week. He is improving.

Long and Commendable History for Women's Club of Lakeside

The Lakeside Star
THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1949

MEMBERS of the Lakeside Woman's Club, pictured above, had the honor of turning the first spadefuls of dirt when the Lakeside Town Hall was started in the Spring of 1911. This was in recognition of their assistance in raising funds. The whole town had a celebration and dance when the Town Hall was dedicated in December of that year.

By FLORENCE BEADLE

IN MARCH, 1910, eight women met and organized the Woman's Club of Lakeside. Their purpose was the advance of civic and social interests in Lakeside. The eight charter members were Mrs. Mary Ross (mother of Josie Miller), Mrs. Martha Langdon, Mrs. Josephine Mansfield, Mrs. J. L. Wilkinson, Mrs. Etta Burchard, Mrs. Robert Whitaker, Mrs. Wm. McClain and Mrs. A. E. Langdon.

In February, 1918, the Lakeside Woman's Club joined the San Diego County Federation of Women's Clubs and in April of the same year they entertained the County Federation.

During 1918 the Club became largely a Red Cross unit. In the fall of 1920 the Club federated with the State and District clubs.

The club had been holding its meetings in the Town Hall and the members decided they wanted a building of their own. Accordingly, they bought the building, in 1920, on the corner of Main and Sycamore, which had been built about 1913. Mrs. Bessie Mallory bought the building and the club paid for it out of funds earned.

As Lakeside grew, the building became unsuited for a club-room and it was sold to John Rocchio for a drug store in 1945.

With the $5,000 they received, the women expected to build another clubhouse on a more quiet street.

However, when it was proposed to erect a War Memorial Building in Lakeside, to become a civic center, club rooms and Veterans hall, the club changed its plans and contributed $3500 toward the project. They later loaned the Building Committee an additional $1500.

Now, until the War Memorial Building is completed, the club continues to meet in the Community Church parlors.

Panoramic View Shows First School, Church and Historic Hotel

ANOTHER VIEW of Lakeside, in 1904, shows the Inn, Community Church and general store, with Lindo Lake between. Though the mountain scenery in the background is unchanged, there is "little similarity otherwise to Lakeside of today. In the foreground is the first school house and a residence, now the remodeled home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kursave.

What is now Winter Gardens and Riverview Farms was a large ranch owned by Mr. Key, Bessie Mallory's father. South of town was Will Miller's dairy ranch (now the McClain Bros. dairy.) What is now Lakeside Farms to the north, was one large ranch, owned by John Ferry, for many years County Recorder.

The one-room school building was erected in 1890 and Mrs. Ida Weight was the first teacher. The schoolhouse burned down in 1916, but another (now the Recreation Bldg.) which had been built nearby, was not damaged.

The Cuberson house (right foreground) was later moved to River st. The rare cork elms, planted in 1891 on Woodside ave., can be seen near the center of the picture.

The former Neile house, next to the church, is now owned by the Wm. Millers. On River st. can be seen the former John Key home and the Kinney home.

The Star this week publishes its largest edition to date—both in number of pages and circula-

The illustrations and stories of Lakeside in the early days have been contributed by Mrs.
Florence Beadle and the Union Title & Trust Company. We want to thank Mrs. Beadle, especially, for the time she took off from busy 49er days to delve into the past for this information.

She has many more pictures of the early days, which the Star plans to publish.

The issue took a good deal of extra work and the publishers wish to thank members of the staff Neil Langlois and Mrs. Bertha Polk for their fine cooperation; also Don Kennedy in the composing room.

Our advertisers? Yes, we sincerely appreciate their coopera-

No. 5

Well, boys, now that the drive is about over for funds for the Memorial to War, we probably can get on with that which is so close to our hearts' desire—boys' work. So, Archie and Johnnie, we are looking for a pretty tough assignment on boys' work, but we're all behind you and ready to go. But we know that you want to know what we're thinking along these lines, so here's a couple of angles: Number one, what kind of boys; and Number two, what kind of work. Not enough space here to take up both now, so let's have at Number two for a minute. So far, we've mostly heard about athletic recreation.
All very good, but far from a balanced program for balanced boys. How about hobbies, arts and crafts, music or drama?

Some of us have seen some tough nuts cracked, not by wrestling or boxing, but by providing an outlet through expression in more esthetic channels, such as drama. Is it ridiculous to contemplate a boy or boys sitting in the woods at Green Valley Falls, pouring out their story on canvas? There are boys in Lakeside who need this type of experience and opportunity. And so we come to the Number one question, what boys? Maybe we should talk it over in Directors meeting, hey Bingo?

"The Optimist proclaims that we live in the best of all possible worlds; and the pessimist fear this is true."

—Branch Cabell.

FAIR PROGRAM APPRECIATED

A letter from Harry Hofmann, special events director for the County Fair, expresses appreciation for the program put on at "Lakeside, Bostonia and Mountain Empire Day." His letter to the Star follows:

"Through you I want to thank Lakeside for the splendid program presented at the San Diego County Fair. My thanks go to all the participants.

"Next year I hope that we will be able to continue with even bigger and better community programs and I'll certainly be looking forward to one from Lakeside."

GROWTH

THE GROWTH of our insti-1944 is a barometer of the growth of the territories we serve. For example, our assets in 1944 were approximately $500,000

TODAY — $3,341,946.63

We feel that this phenomenal growth proves two things:

1. We are located in the

2. Our services have made

General Store Was Trading Center In the Horse and Buggy Days The Lakeside Star THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1949

By FLORENCE BEADLE

THE LAKESIDE STORE, on the corner of Main and Sycamore Sts., was the postoffice and shopping center in the early days. A line of general merchandise was carried—groceries, hardware and dry goods. In a shed in the back were sold wood, coal, hay and feed, also gasoline for the few horseless carriages.

The building was first used as a boarding house, run by Mrs. Will Carson. At that time it was a narrow two-story frame structure. In 1898 J. H. Neale and Don Forney opened their general store. The upstairs was used as a community dance hall and meeting place until the Town Hall was built.

Klauber-Wagenheim, a grocery company of San Diego, bought the store in 1903 and renamed it the Lakeside Store. The company sent out C. W. Ross to manage it. His daughter, Josie Ross, was his assistant.

In 1912, Mr. Ross decided they needed a larger building, so another narrow building adjoining it was torn down and the store was enlarged to twice the former size. Mr. Ross managed the store until his retirement in 1920.

During the next nine years there were different managers. Messrs. Craig, MacFarland, Bloucher and Harold Parker. In 1930 Bob Swearingin moved his hardware store into a portion of the building, which had been vacant for a time. After a few years he sold out to Harold Laws. Ownership then passed to Tony Held who moved the business across the street. Tom Pearce, new owner of the building, remodeled it and leased it to Ted Miller for a variety and grocery store. Today it is Hamlet's Market, Lee Hamlet, owner.

THREE LANDMARKS, integral parts of Lakeside in the early days, appear in this 1904 photograph of Main Street looking south from the Sycamore Street intersection. Missing from this picture today are, chiefly the Lakeside Inn and the horses and buggies. The Lakeside Store, now Hamlet's Market, and the Community Presbyterian Church (center) still remain in the center of a business district fronting on the State Highway through Lakeside.

Lakeside in 1904 was made up of 18 homes, the inn, church, general store, John Ikey's saloon, two corrals, a blacksmith shop and the depot.

The shores of Lindo Lake were favorite picnic grounds in the early days.

Women's Fellowship Has Lawn Meeting

The Women's Fellowship of the Lakeside Community Presbyterian Church met for an enjoyable potluck lunch on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Alice Lindsay Tuesday, July 12. The meeting was combined with that of the Missionary Society.

Special guest was Mrs. Dick Wichman, wife of a former pastor of the Lakeside Church. She spoke entertainingly of her experiences at Cameron House, recreation hall for Chinese teenagers in San Francisco. Rev. Roberts made a brief address, explaining the progress being made at the church and plans for future development of classes for young people. There will be a family night potluck dinner at the church July 27. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends and members to attend.

Several hand woven rugs, products of the Lakeside weaving class, were displayed and sold during the afternoon.

No meeting in August was the decision of the members at the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Mildred Langlois, chairman. However, cash contributions from regular members will be received and added to the Fellowship treasury in lieu of the work done at the meeting.

Lakeside Landmark

By FLORENCE BEADLE

THERE'S AN AIR OF GRANDEUR still surrounding the "Castle," or "Tower House," as it is often called — now owned by Thomas Helm, Lakeside's postmaster.

Built on a knoll on Orange and Cedar Streets, there is a panoramic view of the Valley from any of its windows, but especially the tower rooms.

Castle House was built in 1887 by J. H. Mansfield, vice-president of the El Cajon Valley Land Co., subdivider of the Townsite of Lakeside in 1886. It was the first house in the new townsite.

Mr. Mansfield, a bachelor from New York, built the house for a show place, in the style popular in New England at that time.

Costing $9,000, it was built of redwood, with double floors of pine. The shingles on the second story and on the tower are diamond-shaped. All of the original windows in the house had a border of vari-colored small panes of glass, typical of Colonial days.

Originally, there were 50 acres of orchard and vineyard surrounding the house, but the acreage has been reduced to about 4½ acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm purchased the "Castle" in 1920. Mrs. Helm passed away in 1946. There have been many owners of the Castle House before the Helms but none changed the original structure in any way.

The Sunday evening program for older young people went into operation July 17, with 15 present. Charter members of the group are Bob Carlile, Bob Condon, David Price, Vic Langlois, Alan Diamond, Dale Diamond, Leonard Wessels, Richard Kalstrom, Donald Ashfield, Jerry Nelson, Betty Fuller, Carole Lee Vallin, Sammie Dunham, Marjorie Kalstrom and Mary Ann Baker.

Following a most delectable meal, provided by Mesdames Dunham, Conant and Roberts, the purpose of the group, necessary organizational machinery, and possibilities for program material were discussed. By majority vote, it was decided to use as a basis for study and discussion during the next ten weeks, the book "On Being a son Fosdick. The meetings will be held around a supper table each Sunday at 6:30 p.m., and the members will each pay 25c for the meal. Parents are being drafted to take turns preparing and serving the food.

Next week space will be given to news about the younger group, made up of eighth, ninth and tenth graders.

Mrs. Macnider, superintendent of the Primary Department of the Sunday School, reports that attendance last Sunday in her department reached an all-time high of 73. We would have called holding our own during the traditional slack season a victory. But the records indicate that we had too little faith. Instead of just holding on, we are definitely growing. Both church and Sunday School attendance are moving ahead of the winter average. T. E. R.

New Equipment for The Lakeside Cleaners

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sutton's Lakeside Cleaners (formerly Arcade Cleaners) is now well established in its new location at 114 South Main Street.

To lighten their work and at the same time add to the capacity of their plant, Mr. Sutton has added a number of new pieces of equipment, including a coat former for pressing, a pants topper and a new sleeve. A silk finishing machine is on order.

A new 10 h.p. boiler is in operation just outside the rear of the building. It will be housed before winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton have made considerable investment in expanding the facilities of their cleaning and pressing business, which is now one of the most modern in San Diego county.

Visitor from England Taken on Parks Tour

Mrs. Annie Astington from Worcestershireshire, England, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moynihan, Cajon rd., Winter Gardens. She arrived June 10 and will be in the U. S. until October.

The Moynihans and Mrs. Astington left Lakeside July 12 en route to Canada, where they will visit two brothers living at Edson. They will also tour Yellowstone and Yosemite parks, the Grand Canyon, and other national parks en route.

It will be the first reunion of the brothers and sisters for 37 years. During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Moynihan their place is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Houghton, (nee Frances Moynihan) who recently returned from a visit with relatives in Canada.

"THIS IS THE PLACE!"

When we first saw Lakeside a few years ago, we said: "This Is It!"

Our faith has been fully justified. There is no better place to live. Our growth has kept pace with the Community, and in the last six months has been outstanding.

Let's get together and keep pushing this War Memorial to a grand finish, that we may have a place to meet.

Have Fun! at the LAKESIDE DAYS OF '49

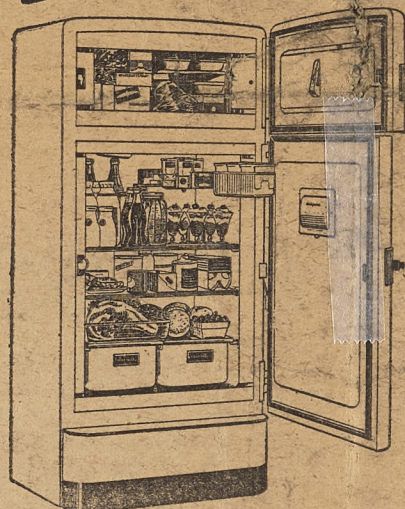

At The War Memorial Bldg.—July 22-23-24

This year the "Days of '49" Celebration in Lakeside means more than ever before, because the building is well on the way to completion and everyone is anxious for it to be finished.

Here's doffing our '49er Hat to the boys of the VFW and all others who have worked so hard on this civic project. We hope that everyone will attend the Celebration—Have Fun — and make a contribution, however small, to the Lakeside Memorial Building.

FLOYD AND GLADYS UMBARGER.
